

In order to protect the privacy of its users, Prudential Connecticut Realty has adopted the following policy:

I. General Information

When you use the Web site, some basic general information is collected. This information is used to improve the Web site and make your use of the Web site as enjoyable and efficient as possible. Cookies are also used to help us determine the various services you use and the support you may need, and to help us detect and solve any problems you may have when using the Web site. This general information is used internally in connection with Prudential Connecticut Realty's marketing and advertising efforts ONLY.

II. Personal Information

When you set up an account to receive e-notifications, we collect personal information (which you provide) that may include your: first and last name; email address; phone number; searching, saving and sending patterns (collectively, "Personal Information").

III. Use/Sharing of Personal Information

Your name, mailing address and email address are used by Prudential Connecticut Realty in order to provide you with the information you requested. We may occasionally send out emails, including newsletters and other useful information related to real estate. Your phone number is used by Prudential Connecticut Realty only in the event that our customer service representatives need to contact you about a request you have made.

Personal Information is used internally in connection with Prudential Connecticut Realty, including Prudential Connecticut Realty promotional, marketing and advertising efforts, in a manner that does not readily identify a user to any third party. Prudential Connecticut Realty (including its business entities, Connecticut Home Mortgage and Connecticut Insurance Services) does not share with any third party any Personal Information that could readily identify any user.

V. Collecting Information From Children Younger than 13

Prudential Connecticut Realty does not knowingly collect or use any Personal Information from children younger than 13 years of age.

VI. Miscellaneous

Prudential Connecticut Realty wants you to be aware that when you click on links (including advertising banners), which take you to third-party Web sites, you will be subject to such third parties' privacy policies. While we support the protection of privacy on the Internet, Prudential Connecticut Realty expressly disclaims any and all liability for the actions of third parties, including without limitation actions relating to the use and/or disclosure of Personal Information by third parties. Our Privacy and Child Protection Policy is subject to change. In the event of any change, we will provide notice of such change on this page. If you have questions about this Privacy and Child Protection Policy, or believe that Prudential Connecticut Realty has acted inconsistently with this statement, please contact us.
